

Cloud Cost Management

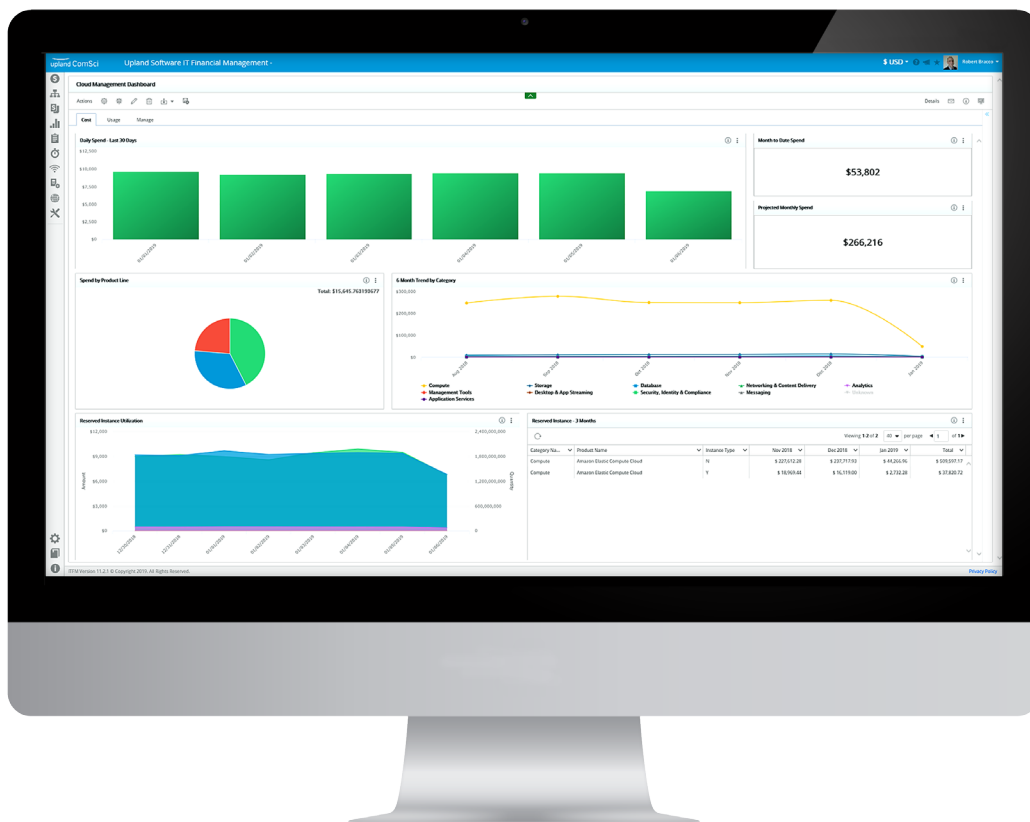

Optimize SaaS and Cloud Investments to Improve the Bottom Line

With the proliferation of SaaS applications and Cloud infrastructure usage throughout the organization, IT Finance Managers need easy access to cost and consumption data across all providers. This has increasingly become more vital to help improve governance, control runaway charges, and optimize investment without impacting customer satisfaction.

Upland ComSci is a complete financial solution for tracking Cloud subscription and usage costs with an unprecedented level of detail. With consolidated cost data from multiple SaaS and Cloud infrastructure providers, IT Finance managers are empowered to monitor, report, and optimize investments, elevating their role to a strategic partner to the business. Small and large enterprises alike benefit from data-driven insights to control spend and generate accurate chargeback for the organization.
