PPG Industries

Upland ComSci is an IT financial management (ITFM) solution that drives alignment and transparency. We help you manage, govern, and communicate the cost, quality and value IT brings to the enterprise.

The Upland ComSci leadership team leverages years of practical experience in ITFM implementation and large scale transformation projects for the world's top financial service firms. We bring many years of experience delivering solutions that add value and achieve rapid ROI for our clients.

In addition to bringing practical expertise to clients, Upland ComSci's ITFM solution is all-inclusive and collaborative. We help save you money by supporting the monthly business process, which is ultimately what sets us apart from other ITFM providers.

Increased Insight. Better Decisions. Greater Profitability.

Upland ComSci benefits include:

Management of the Production Process

- Receive and validate all source files
- Ensure there are no data errors—fix and follow-up with data owners
- Perform quality review of invoice to the lines of business
- Generate General Ledger files mapped to customer system and accounting controls for proper debits and credits
- Manage to the financial close process

Support of all New and Changed Data Feeds

- Perform analysis, code development and testing for clients
- Move to production environment and manage with all other feeds

Provide On-Going ITFM Advisory Service

- On-going support for new ITFM use cases, analytics, accounting & best practices

The Delivery Team of Upland ComSci becomes an extension of your organization and takes part in your goals. We mitigate resource management for our clients. Other ITFM providers do not support the monthly business process like we do. Many ITFM programs require two to three full time professions to manage their monthly processes. As Upland ComSci manages this overhead for you, we can help save resource costs and free up your team for more value oriented activities.
